From the Pastor's Desk

My Dear People:

Security: The recent school massacre in Parkland, Florida has made us all wonder what's next. School massacres have happened before, and we asked, "What's next?" Now another seventeen have been killed and many injured by a shooting, which could have been prevented.

The "if only" litany is long. If only the many who saw something had said something. If only the FBI, loaded with many cases, had checked out the information they had received. If only the mentally ill were better treated. If only local police had done a better job. If only parents raised their children in the love and reverential fear of God. If only automatic guns were not so available to the general public. If only "shooters" were not given so much notoriety, which some seek in a perverse way.

The country has seen the turning point and civic leaders are (and should be) addressing the issue.

The state of Florida has just announced they will put $500,000,000.00 into every means to prevent this kind of massacre from happening again.

Tight security is expensive and brings about much inconvenience, but we cannot accept the alternative. Just locking and unlocking doors requires extra effort. Yes, extra effort!

There was a recent article in the Birmingham News (2-21-18) about the Bessemer City High School threatened with a shooting. The article went on to say that students from Jefferson, Blount, Limestone, Houston and Baldwin counties were arrested following threats of school shootings. Bad jokes? Yes, and often more than a threat. The shooter in Parkland, FL, definitely voiced his threat before the execution of his plan.

I have spoken to administrators of OLS School, Mother's Day Out, CCLC, and the plant manager, John Tombrello. John has spoken with Lt. Col. Bruce Bright (retired Marine) and has attended a meeting at Prince of Peace to glean whatever he could to help us. We plan a meeting this Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. with the Knights of Columbus and anyone else who would like to attend for input, thoughts of tentative plans, and whatever else can deter a tragedy at OLS.

Chad Gentry, Grand Knight, will inform the Knights for the 6:30 meeting in the Family Life Center, and at 7:30 they will move to the Parish Hall for their own planned meeting. We do plan police coverage with an off-duty officer at the School, with a police car presence on the playground and an officer on alert, and more security for the Family Life Center. We do have key pads at the School, Mom's Day Out and the Catholic Children's Learning Center. We are working on protection at all six Masses.

We live in dangerous times. If we don't do our part by way of expense and time for security, we incur some of the blame.

Rise Against Hunger, formally Stop Hunger Now, is an incredible program to produce nourishing meals at $.29 apiece, because generous people are willing to do the packaging. One has to experience the operation, which Suzanne Corso organized into three sessions last Sunday: one for the service projects for the 8th graders of the PSR, one for Carol Wiget's Middle School Youth Group service project, and one for the parishioners of OLS.

Last Sunday was a loud outpouring of love for the hungry and a willingness to do something to help them. The parish donated the $13,000, which produced 42,120 meals.

Special thanks to all who helped. Even the head coach from the Samford football team, Chris Hatcher, brought some of his players to help package the meals. Coach Hatcher is a member of OLS.

With prayers and blessings,
Father Muller
