From the Pastor's Desk

My Dear People:

Changing of the guard: Not only are we losing Fr. Wilfred, replaced by Fr. Frankline (he will be here for the second Sunday of August), but we are also saying, "We hate to see Marcy Fleming go, replaced by Tracy Doyal, both of the PSR Office.

Then, too, there is a change in the Plant Manager. John Tombrello will be replaced by Joe Alesce. John has served us so well, but at this time he has bought a large building next to his previously owned Alabama Jack. It is a fixer upper building, and John needs more time on this huge challenge. John loved working at OLS and he has done a fantastic job!! He will be available to help Joe Alesce if Joe needs some help for some projects.

Marcy Fleming typed the bulletin last week and saw that I answered a question puzzling Joan Durand when Joan was talking to a Baptist. So, Marcy told me she was talking to a Presbyterian friend who told her that Jesus already died for our sins, so why do Catholics confess them? Marcy said to me, "Answer this one in your next message to your people."

Answer: When Jesus died on the cross, He opened the gates of heaven for us, and made it possible for sins to be forgiven. However, regret on our part is essential to have the mercy of Jesus applicable to us.

During our Lord's life He used His own divine power to forgive sins of those who repented. On Easter Sunday, when He appeared to the pillars of the Church that He said He was founding, He told them He was leaving with them the use of His power to forgive sins.

"Whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven..." (John 20:23)

When we confess our sins we intensify that thinking of regret for sins, and the priest, on behalf of the Church, pronounces the words of absolution.

The way the question is asked makes it seem as though the person thinks Catholics have a permission to sin, because Jesus already died for our sins. Reason, as well as the words above, tell us that could not be true.

With prayers and blessings,
Father Muller

Dear ladies,
In studying The Word, The Bible, we learn about our beloved shepherd and His sheep in John 10, Psalm 23, Ezekiel 34. We are reminded how Jesus loves his people, each one of us especially. Jesus the shepherd is the Good Shepherd. He goes after his beloved ones. He doesn't just wait around and hope they'll come back home. When he reaches them, He picks them up and carries them on his shoulder, back home, all the time speaking loving words to them. He Gives us Rest and refreshing water and food to eat for mind, soul, and body. He says that the sheep know His voice, especially in HIS WORD. "Do not be afraid, I am with you always," says Jesus to each one of us, in Matt. 28:20. Come join us for Bible Study and fellowship on Tuesdays, 9-11 a.m. in the Family Life Center. We will be starting September 18.
Call Mary Ann Graeve at 205-908-2728 to register. Leave your name and number, and I will return your call.
