From the Pastor's Desk

My Dear People:

Clerical Sexual Abuse: I am so devastated over the clerical sexual abuse scandal that it is difficult to know what to write and where to start.

It is roughly 4% of the clergy, especially in the Dallas and Pennsylvania area, who have embarrassed the 96% of the decent clergy and people to no end.

The only explanation is that ordination does not take away the free will. People would like an explanation, and the only thing to say is regret, shame, disgust, and endless apologies by the Church to the victims. It seems to be somewhat of a sickness. However, only God can judge the amount of culpability in the predator.

When the news broke out in Dallas in 2002, and then all over the press in our county, the American Bishops formulated a zero tolerance charter of 2002. The Grand Jury in Pennsylvania studied so many cases in a total of 70 years prior to 2002, and since then, with the zero tolerance charter put into practice in every diocese, the offenses have decreased impressively. By far, the cases studied went back 70 years. A famous psychologist said the greatest motivation to stop sex offenders was FEAR of punishment when caught.

The charter of 2002 stated the problems with priests and deacons. It said nothing of the bishops, who simply changed the priest assignment and trusted things would "go away." When bishops protected priests they thought they were protecting the Church. Unfortunately, they should have been trying to protect the victims more than the predators. Maybe they were underestimating the huge harm done to the victims and the harm done to the predator's own soul.

Today, the civil law and the Church are identifying predators of the past and their enablers with sanctions. An article in the Washington Post stated that for clergymen, bishops, and priests, repentance requires accountability and accountability requires resignation. The Pope recently asked for the resignation of five bishops of Chili. Every diocese has a diocesan review board to examine all accusations. Overseeing the diocesan boards is a National Review Board. Because bishops tend to protect fellow bishops, it has strongly been suggested that no bishop be on a review board when there is a judgement on a bishop who simply transferred a priest.

There is a great article in Our Sunday Visitor (Sept. 1 issue) on why a Catholic would be foolish leaving Jesus in the Catholic Church, where the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist has been given to us, as seen in these last four Sundays in St. John, Chapter 6. Why give up Jesus in the Eucharist because of 4% of the depraved clergy? The whole issue should remind us to pray for bishops and priests and that justice be served.

WELCOME TO FATHER FRANKLINE: Our people have been welcoming Fr. Frankline after Sunday and daily Masses. He has made a commitment to be a "missionary" in a foreign country for five years. Yes, America has a high standard of living for us priests, but "home is home" for those who come here to serve, as we need "missionaries" with our lack of native vocations.

Fr. Frankline is the sixth child of his parent's seven children. He received a strong faith from his parents and went to the minor seminary for high school. Then, a year of spiritual formation. For the next six years he was in the major seminary.

Father was ordained on April 15, 2004, which means he has been a priest for 14 years. He became rector of the minor seminary immediately. In 2007 he became the bishop's secretary and Chancellor. His next, and fast assignment, was being a parish priest and Superintendent of the primary schools of the diocese.

Fr. Frankline served as principal of the Catholic college until 2016. Then he became the Secretary of Catholic Education and the bishop's Master of Ceremonies. He finally arrived at the very top as a parish priest at the great OLS parish, Homewood.

I had to meet with the Bishop and the Personnel Board to plead my request for Fr. Frankline to come to us. Bo Lovell entertained Fr. Frankline when Father visited Fr. Wilfred here for five days. Bo made the statement that he thinks Fr. Frankline will be Bishop Frankline in his native land in the not too distant future.

We also must thank Fr. Wilfred, who found us Fr. Frankline with all kinds of recommendations.

Last weekend the celebration of 26 years of Perpetual Adoration was a great success. We thank Jesus for choosing OLS as the only parish in our city with perpetual adoration 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and we thank the 315 committed adorers for this enormously great blessing to our parish.

With prayers and blessings,
Father Muller

NOTICE: All individuals and groups who would like to speak after the announcements must be pre-approved by Fr. Muller. Requests should be in the Church Office no later than the Wednesday prior to the requested weekend. You will be notified when approval is given. This policy is to prevent multiple speakers, which is unfair to the congregation as well as the celebrant. All talks should be no more than 2 minutes. This policy was violated recently, resulting in the approved speakers forfeiting there opportunity to speak. Most groups adhere to our policy, which is greatly appreciated. Thank you for your cooperation.
