From the Pastor's Desk

My Dear People:

We are all affected by the example of others, good or bad. It is up to us to see the good in others and be affected by their example.

Last Sunday I met with some of our many "unsung heroes" of this parish, the Extraordinary Ministers who visit UAB hospitals with Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. These heroes give Communion to as many as 40 people. This is not once a month, but every Sunday. If you are a Catholic and at UAB hospital over the weekend, you would love to receive Jesus in the Eucharist. When a Minister enters a room, they are greeted with, "Thank you. I've been waiting for you (really waiting for Jesus)."

There is a Catholic Chaplain assigned to UAB, Fr. Athanasius. However, he lives and helps out at St. Peter's and cannot visit the Catholics on Sunday. He is more concerned about the Catholics who are extremely sick and need the sacraments of healing (Confession and Anointing, and for the dying, the Apostolic Blessing).

Again, it is OLS that fills the void on Sunday mornings and brings Jesus to the sick, who need His healing presence, physical and spiritual. Doug Ross has done this for over 30 years, and Pat Thornton has been his partner for at least 20 years. They pick up helpers and lose them. Circumstances are, now, that their "retirement" has come and others have "stepped up to the plate!"

Presently, there are, as of last Sunday, four Extraordinary Ministers. Cathy Sellers is the leader, with Kelly and Elias, and now Bo. They could use at least one more. As with perpetual adoration, there is always the need for substitutes. During the winter, we all take a turn at getting a little sick, and with germs should not be visiting the hospitals.

Cathy also goes to UAB Highlands after the first location and made the profound statement that those hours on Sunday morning are the best hours of the week. They give her the grace for the next six days.

The Ministers cover six floors of the various parts of UAB: Jefferson Towers, North and West Pavilion and Spain Wallace. It takes time, two, possibly three hours, depending on how many patients and how many Ministers. Sometimes, one waits in the hall for the medical procedures to take place. The Ministers drive individually, but meet at the Pastoral Care Office, where they pick up the names of the Catholics. After the names are divided, they go to the Chapel for prayer to help them administer Jesus in a prayerful and devout way.

Pat Thornton and Doug Ross don't want their names mentioned, but I believe if we are going to see the grace that God gives wonderful people, and the way they accept the call to help Jesus, making "sick call visits," we need to see people in the concrete. A million thanks for the goodness of our Extraordinary Ministers of the Sick, as well as those at the altar.

I can remember the days before Extraordinary Ministers, when all the priests at OLS had to be at six Masses to help with the distribution of the Lord at Communion time. Now, we have gone back to the early centuries of the Church, when the laity brought the Eucharist to the sick, to those in prison, and to those hiding in the catacombs.

If you would like to be the fifth member on Sunday mornings, or one of their substitutes, please call Cathy at 956-1278. Being an Extraordinary Minister is such an honor and such a service to others and to the Church.

With prayers and blessings,
Father Muller
