From the Pastor's Desk

My Dear People:

My favorite scene from the book by C. S. Lewis on the devils pertains to the senior devil teaching the junior devils how “to catch” people. The senior devil asks them what they think is the best way “to get” people. One junior devil speaks up and says, “Try to convince them there is no God.” The senior devil answers, “No, that’s not the best way. There is too much order and design in the universe. Intelligent people know it could not all happen by ‘chance’.” Another junior devil says, “Why not tell them there is no punishment after death? Everyone goes straight to heaven.” The senior devil replies, “They seem to know that the good are to be rewarded and the evil ones punished.” The senior devil then recognizes a third suggestion and this junior devil says, “Why don’t we tell them there is no hurry?” The senior devil brightens up and says, “That’s it! That is the correct answer.” So many of us fall for this, putting off the things of God, thinking that there is no hurry. Yet, Jesus said death comes like a thief in the night.

We cave into this thinking in various degrees. I am thinking now of the Protestant who comes to Mass at OLS, having drifted from his original denomination, and who has been thinking of learning more about the Catholic faith. He or she faces that same temptation: “There is no hurry.”

By virtue of our baptism we have the responsibility to help spread the faith, by example or in words. Yes, even by a friendly invitation to come to Monday night classes beginning Monday, October 26.

The new pandemic format is a 35-minute lecture in person in the Parish Hall. A boxed dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

The small group discussions will be closed circuit conference call, or Zoom, as they call it.

Those interested in coming to learn more about the faith, please call the office and let us know so we will know the correct number of boxed meals to prepare.

I pray for those who will come to learn more about the Catholic faith, and know that your offer to accompany them means an enormous amount of encouragement.

The great challenge is to invite a friend or relative to the inquiry class and make the sacrifice to come with them for the first three classes. Ask friends if they are not attached to any particular church to try it for three classes. The vast majority of people feel complimented that they were invited. Our Protestant brethren excel in extending an “invitation” to others to come to church. We can learn from them.

With prayers and blessings,
Father Muller

Food for Our Journey Update:

"THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!! The food drive at OLS has been a VALUABLE and NECESSARY resource for Food for Our Journey. This past week we surpassed 101,000 meals served since January, and your participation was vital in that. As our numbers have grown, so have our needs. We continue to need pre-made sandwiches, salty and sweet snacks, fruit (oranges, tangerines, and bananas), and WATER. We average around 2,800 bottles of water a week. Masks and hygiene bags are also a vital necessity and dearly needed. Our drive continues every Wednesday morning at OLS near the parking deck from 9:00-10:30 a.m."

If you would like to make a monetary donation, please make checks payable to Food for Our Journey.
